AND so JIMMY McLARNIN, who has, or should have, all the money he needs, has licked game, washed-up little TONY CANZONERI, and is looking forward to another crack at BARNEY ROSS and the welterweight championship... I like ART POTTER'S description of the entire situation... "I never questioned JIMMY'S courage, but I'm beginning to question his good sense"... JIMMY never was in the sport for fame... It was money he wanted, but now he has the cabbage, he's after the glory... Wouldn't it be pathetic if McLARNIN, a great fighter and a fine gentleman, should wind up with a bounce in his heels, a blur in his voice and the suspicion of a vacant look in his eyes?... There'll be two Eastbay men who'll root for JIMMY to lick ROSS or anyone else in the world... TOM and DUNC NELSON, close friends of the one-time champion, JIMMY'S hosts whenever he stops off at Berkeley.

the time, months ago, I wrote JACK had retired from his particular line of business... And JACK raised the roof when he read the article, saying he was taking only a short vacation and would return in harness, instanter... But he hasn't returned and it looks like the first statement was the correct one... JIMMY STARR, in his Hollywood movie strip, mentions a fellow named FRANK GAY who is about to produce a picture featuring a boss... Unless I don't know my onions, is it the

Two are boxers, one is a roofer, the other a domino player.

FRANK GAY who used to live in Alameda, did some flicking, including a bout or two at the Auditorium, then crashed the flicker colony... He appeared in a number of shorts, especially those dealing with the so-called manly sport... JIM FREEMAN, who played first base for the U. C. baseball team a while back, is a deputy district attorney for Alameda County... A case of following the ball instead of the ball, eh?... And EDWARD "SLIP" MADIGAN of Moraga and BOB DWYER of this paper apparently are running a race to determine which can wear the most wash-away shirts... MADIGAN has gone in for salmon pink, whereas DWYER has a yen for rainbow effects, gaudier than some of the trout about which he writes.

But If She Puts Her Hand Under Your Chin, Then What?

If you're out with a new gal and you happen to spot her, in a mirror or something, wagging one hand under her chin toward a friend at another table, it means you're a Billy-goat, which term is synonymous with flat-tire, pain-in-the-neck and palooka... IERB BRUNTSCH, brother of HAL, the artist guy, strolls along the street, reflectively chewing on a toothpick... ABE COHN, who gets around a little bit, reports this bit of meowism emanating from a blond with long fingernails and a feline look in her eyes: "She collects her friends like an Indian collects scalps, and after looking at each of the boys friends I'll take the scalps"... Maybe it's the football season or merely better times, but the grog joints of the Eastbay are doing the biggest Saturday night business since prohibition... A card from ART McQUILLAN, too nice looking to be the prize fighter he envisioned, says he has connected with a local clothing store and would I drop in and say hello... GEORGE HOLDEN, winner of a Far Western amateur welterweight title for the Athens Club here, has been boxing as a sinner pure for eight years, and saw his first pro show only the other night... GEORGE has won 18 titles of one sort or another... He wasn't tremendously impressed with the professionals, and is determined never to abandon his amateur standing.

A Little of This and That, Kinda Like Restaurant Hash

One of the most rabid fight fans in the city is J. W. OSCAMOU, associated with a musical house, former city golf champion, who always can be found ringside... After reading a bass derby squib regarding "an illuminated parade of mermaids" the sudden horrible thought struck me a careless linotype might have made it "a parade of illuminated mermaids"... If you're a loyal union man you'll appreciate this... A parade was due, and the bartender's local was figuring on putting a truck in the celebration... "How about letting one of our boys who's out of work drive it?" piped up a member... AL RUFFO, assistant to "BUCK" SHAW at Santa Clara, counterbalances his chief's quiet manner by maintaining a running fire of chatter on the field before, after and during every play... NELLO FALASCHI, Bronx quarterback, is a natural born blocker... He won a blocking contest from members of the Santa Clara varsity while he was still at prep school.

Better Get More Than Horseshoe When You Start That Bouncing

After laboring under the delusion dominoes was a game played chiefly by grammar school kids, I watched C. J. FEEHAN, FRED T. WOOD, EUSTACE VON LOBENSLEY, TOMMY HOGAN, JOHN F. HASSLER, WILLIAM CROSS and BOB MILLER manipulating the little blocks at the Athenian-Nile Club and changed my tune... There's an intricacy and a fascination to the pastime... TED EDWARDS, ivory thumper, says of all the older popular songs "Giel of My Dreams" seems to get the biggest rumble when it's played... GENE AUSTIN, who operated a San Francisco night club for a while and now is in the movies, made that number famous... CALIFORNIA BILLY ROCHE, who quit horseshoeing to enter the ring, dropped into the office the other day with a specimen of his original craft, designed as a good luck piece... It will go over my desk, and aside from attracting good fortune, will be mighty handy to bounce off the bean of obstreperous fellow sports writers.

JOHN WENTZ, the attorney, skips along in a yellow turtle neck sweater, and BERT JOHNSON, when he heard of JAWN'S sartorial elegance, turned green with envy... CLIFF CRANFORD sits ringside at the wrestling show and wonders if it is okay to feed the pachyderms peanuts like at the circus... BENNY FORD of San Francisco has taken AL CITRINO, featherweight, from CLEM HAMILL, and wants AL to fight MIKE BELLOISE, New York's champion, in this city... And why not?

EASY PICKIN'S

FRANKIE HAMMER (Heavies) PIETRO GEORGI
"Frankie looks like the money here, even if Giorgio did knock him out previously. Hammer may even score a kayo."

ROBBY CRAY (Lightweights) NORBERT MEEHAN
"There isn't a great deal to choose, but if a decision is rendered Gray should get it by an eyelash."

TONY SOUZA (Feathers) JIMMY BOULLARD
"This looks as a close fight, so maybe I'll call it a draw. But if a verdict is given Tony should do the receiving."

JACKIE LONDON (Middle) GUNNAR FROINES
"Both jads have been out of the game for quite a while, but maybe Jackie hits a little too hard and is too tough for Froines."

EDDIE HALLIGAN (Welters) GEORGE FRANKS
"Eddie always makes it tough for an opponent. Franks is a new comer here. I'll stick along with Halligan."

MILKEY MADISON (Jr. Lightweights) JOEY CHRISTIAN
"Devils Madison's upset two weeks ago he rates a win here. Mick has a soft chin but a good punch, and he is due to land."

HAMMER, GEORGI EACH NEED VICTORY

FRANKIE SEEKS K. O., PIETRO HITS HARD

By ALAN WARD
It is whole hog or none for Frankie Hammer at the Auditorium tonight. It's main events or preliminaries. It is a case of licking Pietro Georgi and staying on top or being licked and drifting back to the fistie kindergarten. In brief, the carrot-thatched Oakland heavy-weight is on the spot.
Hammer simply can't afford to lose to his Italian opponent. He knows the public remembers, with much vividness, his knockout losses to "Dutch" Weimer and Bob Nes-

STEINER PLANS AIR RAID

COVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—Coach Lon Steiner, drilling his Oregon State squad for the California game Saturday, emphasized aerial offense yesterday, indicating the Beavers will take to the air against the Bears.

'CAN HE DO IT AGAIN?'

That's the question Frankie Hammer is asking himself. While he has predicted he will knock Pietro stiff in less time than it took Georgi to turn the trick originally, Hammer also realizes his own jaw isn't made of concrete, and he'll have to protect it at all times.

WOMEN STARS TO PLAY AT MONTEREY

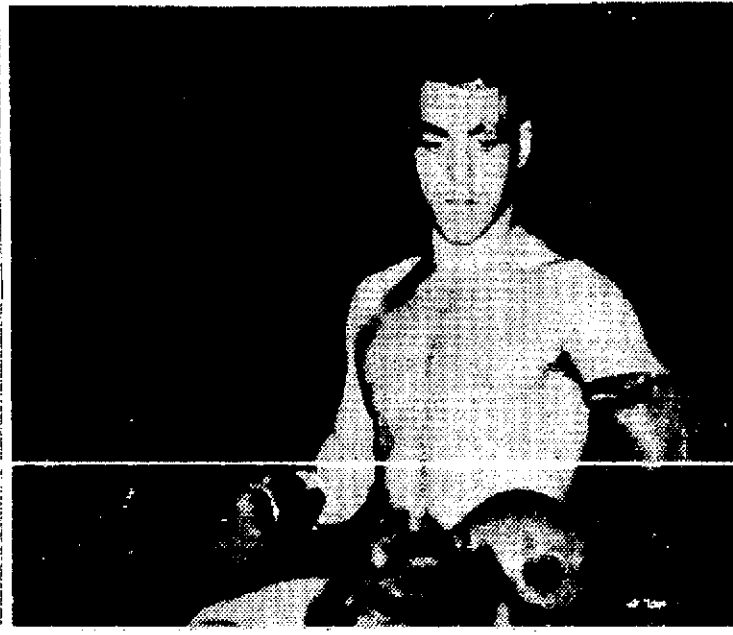

Women players from most of the Northern California golf clubs will take part in the annual open tournament of the Monterey Peninsula Golf Club to be held Friday, October 16, according to word received from Frank W. Harding, club manager.

Already 60 entries have been received for the event, including members from Claremont, Stanford, Lakeside, San Jose, California, Del Paso, Los Altos, Millbrae and Bur-

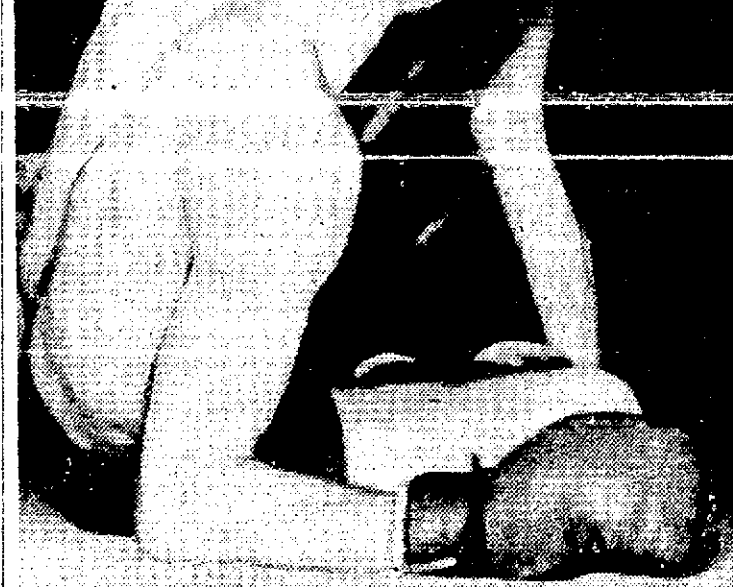

130 women took part in the event and it is believed the number will be substantially increased this year.

Entries should be sent to Harding at the Monterey Peninsula Golf Club, Del Monte, and must be filed before Monday, October 12. On Thursday, October 15, there will be a medal sweepstakes in the afternoon and bridge in the evening. The open tournament will be held the following day. Mrs. Grant Stephenson, Monterey women's captain, is in charge of the event.

cret of the series success for the which they looked the better of the two.

In pre-series expectations, the hurling of Hubbell, Fat Freddy Fitzsimmons and Hal Schumacher was expected to be more than enough to stop the Yankees' ball-killing.

Yet, Hubbell, after winning the opening day's mud and rain battle, 6-1, was belted out in his second start; Fitz, heartbreak hero of a losing four-hit performance in the third game, got only as far as the middle of the fourth yesterday before going down, and Schumacher, after collapsing under the record-smashing Yankee barrage in the second game, managed to last in the round and stop them in the fifth in a hair-raising, but unconvincing, performance.

PEARSON COMES THROUGH
Meantime, Lefty (Goofy) Gomez, leading the way with two victories, headed a set of surprisingly fair Yankee pitchers. In addition to Gomez, Monte Pearson and Charley Ruffing each went the route once, while Pearson and Bump Hadley turned in winning performances.

The statistics show the American League hurling brigade allowed a total of 21 earned runs in 32 innings by Hubbell and seven other Giant pitchers, while the National Leaguers were unable to point to a single angle in

JAKE POWELL HERO—TRAVIS JACKSON GOAT

By HENRY McLEMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1936, by the United Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The 1936 World Series, in which two mighty teams not only came to grips but locked horns and waged bitter inter-city strife as well, has ended. Before we lay the memory of it away in lavender and old moth balls, let's check back over the six games and name a few "firsts."

Here's one man's opinions on the tops and bottoms of the series:

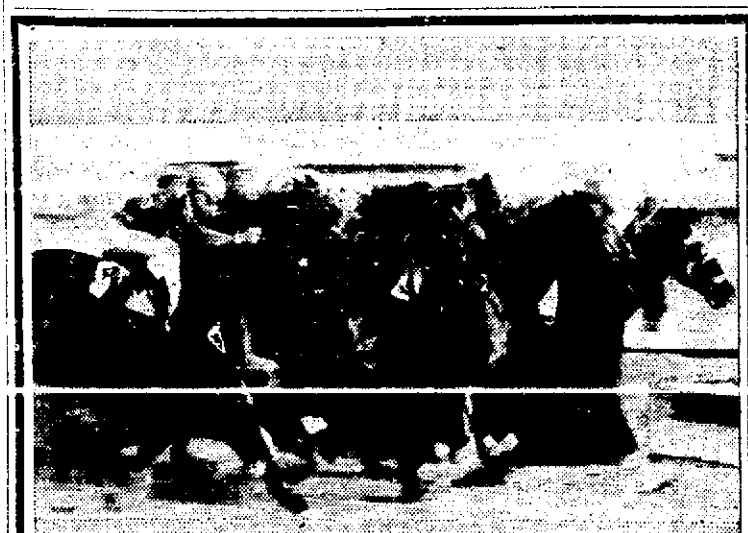

The No. 1 guy: A fellow named Jake—Jake Powell. How much would you have liked to bet before the business started that Jakey would outwit Gehrig by 162 points and DiMaggio by almost as much? But he did, and his mark of 455 was far and away the fattest average of the series.

The No. 999 guy: A fellow named Travis—Travis Jackson. He was a great one when he had it, and he had it for many a year, but he had no business being out there in 1936. His figures are bad enough—a batting average of .200 and three errors—but they don't tell half the story. He didn't put his glove on half a dozen balls that any other third baseman in either league would have knocked down. And yet they say Bill Terry is a hard-hearted guy! Hell, Stoney's his pal, and he played his pal. Right up to the end.

Belongs to a losing pitcher—Fat Freddy Fitzsimmons. None of his rivals came close to turning in the performance he did in getting licked in the third game. The worst pitching performance:

Best umpire: There ain't no such thing. Greatest guy: Terry. He played hard baseball for six games on a left leg which wasn't fit to walk around the streets on. He'll be lucky if he doesn't wind up with a permanent limp.

Second greatest guy: Hal Schumacher. It took courage of the rawest, reddest sort to win the game he did.

DEAN PULLMAN RIDERS LOSE TO MEYER

By EDDIE MURPHY
Bill Meyer, who piloted the Oaks into the Coast League championship finals which were won by the Portland Ducks, leaves for his home in Knoxville today with something to tell the home boys about. He led his All-Stars to a 4 to 3 win over Jerome Dizzy Dean's stats at the Oakland ball park last night and to Hal Haid, the veteran who helped him to win so many games in the pinches during the Coast League season goes credit for the win.

But the blame for the defeat pitched the first three innings. Dizzy showed the fans why he is such a success in the National League. He was nicked for a single by Harlan Pool and a double by Sward Jolley with two away in the first inning and then fanned Fern Bell to retire the side.

They were the only hits made off him during the three frames and he turned in a total of six strikeouts. Billy Phebus, former Oak, who reports to the Washington Senators next season, took up where Dean left off. He had a 1 to 0 lead which the Deans gained by nicking Bill Ludolph for three singles in the first inning.

A double by Pepper Martin and a single by Jack Rothrock, followed by Arnold Staz' sacrifice and a single by B. Martin gave the Deans two more off Ludolph in the fifth. Ludolph retired in the fifth for him after the Meyerman had made a run on Harry Lavagetto's double and Chris Hartje's single. Jolley, Bell, Lavagetto and Vince Monzo contributed singles in the sixth to score two runs and tie the count.

Vic Devincenzi, president of the Oaks, let loose a big shout as Harry "Cookie" Lavagetto (his find) cracked out his third hit of the game in the eighth inning to score Fern Bell, who doubled. The hit won the ball game as Haid, who took up the pitching in the sixth inning, turned the Deans back in order in the ninth. Haid allowed only one scratch hit in the four frames. The score:

Match Race Out To Five Miles

The distance for Clint Parker Jr. and Ernie Cries to travel in their special stock car race Sunday at Oakland Speedway has been reduced to five miles.

As an added attraction, a 25-mile race, open to all stock cars, will run the Speedway program. While interest is centering around the stock car races, short sprint events have been planned for the faster one-man jobs. Qualifying trials will start at noon and the one-man jobs will speed through sprint laps climaxed by a 25-lap race on the half-mile oval.

L. A. Sets Date For Open Tourney

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—The annual Los Angeles Open Golf tournament will be played January 7-10 for a purse of $9000. Officials of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the event, announced the amount today. The prize money last year was $5000, most of which Jimmy Hines, Garden City, Long Island pro, captured as winner of the tournament.

GOMEZ CANCELS TRIP BY AIR

RODEO, Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—Earl Gomez, brother of Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, today said the New York Yankees' pitcher had canceled plans to fly immediately from New York to his home here to bid a last farewell to his dying mother.

Mrs. Joseph Gomez was reported much better today, having rallied from the crisis which was reported to her son as he pitched the 13-5 winning game for the Yankees yesterday. He does not expect to return until next week, Earl Gomez, Rodeo fire chief, said.

Joe's Mother Again to See Liberty Statue

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—Now that her son, Joe, has helped win the World Series there is only one more thing Mrs. Rosalie DiMaggio wants to see in New York. That is the Statue of Liberty which she first saw as an immigrant from Palermo, Italy, 34 years ago. Mrs. DiMaggio dabbled at tears in her hotel room today when she thought of how nice everyone in New York has been to her. "The people are so lovely I never had anything like this before." She said she went to an Italian restaurant last night and when her identity was discovered so many people wanted to shake her hand it was not three hours to miss the meal. "I feel awfully sorry about the Giants losing the series but somebody has got to win and the Yankees were much superior," she said.
